

Excellence in Fire, Emergency, & Security Systems

FSA - a specialist group of ECA - offers trade association membership to the fire, emergency & security systems industry.

What is the FSA?

The Fire & Security Association (FSA) – a specialist group within ECA – offers membership to companies who have achieved the highest levels of certification in fire, emergency and security systems. FSA recognises a number of industry certification schemes.

FSA Members have full access to the exclusive and comprehensive benefits as ECA members, which includes eRAMS, discounted BSI library, unrivalled technical support and much more.

Be a key part of something bigger

As the industry evolves and integrates, you need confidence that your business has industry-leading support. FSA, as an integral part of ECA, is uniquely positioned to bring you, and the wider electrotechnical industry, together. We are dedicated to improving the industry and representing this larger, collective voice to tens of thousands of clients, government and other key industry stakeholders.
